Washington, August 11—The American government has declared for the maintenance of the political independence and territorial integrity of Poland and against any dismemberment of Russia.

In a note addressed to the Italian Ambassador, Secretary Colby, speaking with the approval and consent of President Wilson, said the United States took "no exception to the efforts to arrange an armistice between Poland and Russia, and would "regard with satisfaction a declaration by the Allied and associated powers that the "territorial integrity and true boundaries of Russia would be respected."

The Answer to Every Home Roof Problem—

Some home builders are not "roof conscious". They are guided by precedent instead of judgment. They accept a roof instead of choosing it, and save their judgment and good taste for less important details of the home. Then along comes a leak, a painting charge, a patching bill, or a nearby fire—and too late they see their roof in its true importance.

Thoughtful people, accepting the shingle as the best home roofing, choose a particular type. They find there are fire-proof shingles that are moderate in first cost, good looking, light in weight, and that require little if any repair. And so they demand Johns-Manville Transite Asbestos Shingles, whether their homes are large or small, modest or pretentious.

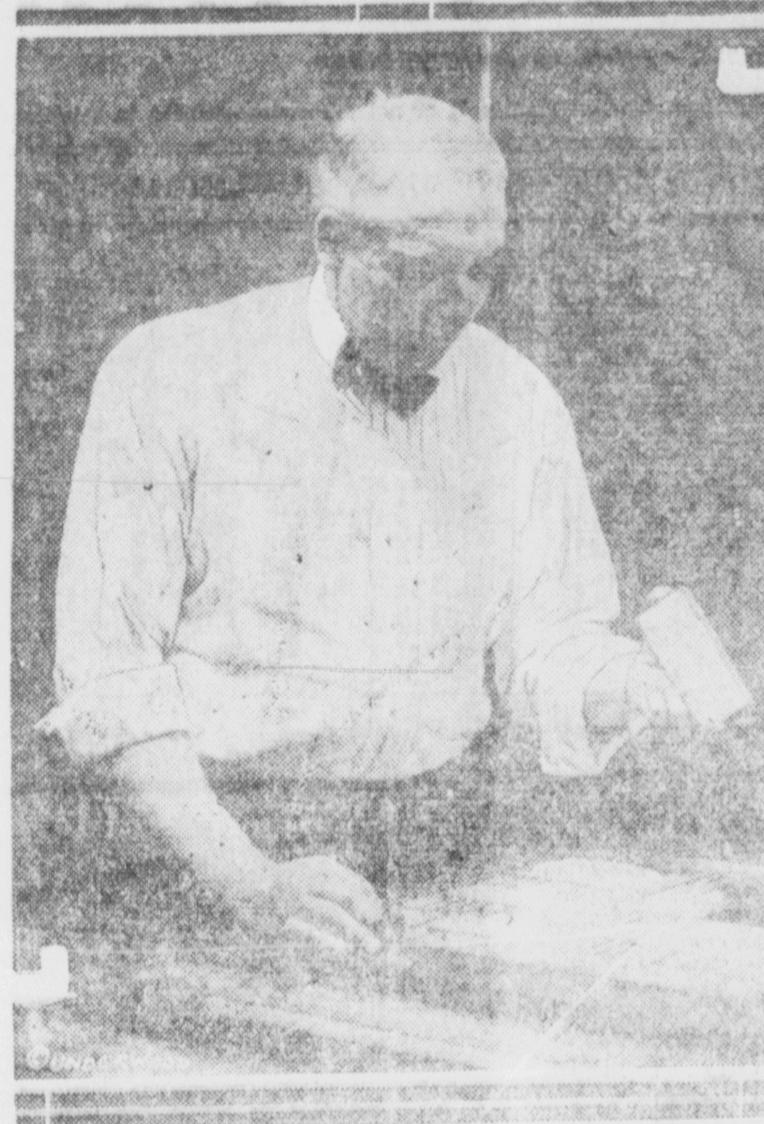

Let us show you samples and quote prices.

LARGE AUDIENCE GREET CARPENTIER

Georges Carpentier never scored a more complete triumph in the ring or even on the battle field than the manner in which he pleased capacity houses at the Palace Theater Tuesday afternoon and evening in the great American drama, "The Wonder Man" which is the American Legion benefit film being shown under the direction of Manager J. E. McLane.

The play, full of high points of interest, gave the versatile Georges opportunity to show himself as the cultured gentleman of society, an ace in the French army, and as the champion heavyweight prize fighter of the European continent.

Wednesday afternoon veterans of the Civil War were given a matinee of "The Wonder Man" and many of them saw the great French fighter.

The play will again be the attraction at the Palace on Thursday.

It has been made plain at Spa that the Germans will do everything that they are absolutely obliged to.

FAYETTE AGAIN FIRST TO REPORT IN ENTIRE STATE

Once more, for the third year in succession, Fayette county has been first in the entire state to file complete election returns of Columbus, due to the corps of loyal friends of The Herald who represented The Herald in all parts of the county.

Time after time, due to the loyal support of the men selected to furnish returns from their respective precincts, the organization built up in Fayette county for obtaining the election returns has proven the most energetic in Ohio, and not only Fayette county citizens who made inquiry by telephone or were present to receive the returns were enabled to get them in the shortest possible space of time, but the returns were flashed by The Associated Press to all parts of Ohio and placed Fayette county in the forefront.

East Wayne precinct was the first precinct in Fayette county to make complete report, Tuesday evening, and this was filed with The Herald at 6:40 o'clock. The last returns came in about 10:30 o'clock and was reported to Columbus as the first precinct in Ohio to make complete return.

The Showers

The rains of the last few days were just the right kind, just what the unmatured crops required and they came just in time.

Notwithstanding our generous summer rains and notwithstanding the ground is well soaked with moisture the crops, especially the corn, have been badly in need of showers.

The dashing downpour of rain a few weeks ago left the earth's surface pounded down flat and the sun of the following days converted the fields into a flinty hardness which effectually barred the dews of night from the roots of the corn.

Before the gentle showers of Saturday and Sunday the ground was cracked open as though a small earthquake had opened up the crevices.

Coming with gentle force these showers have first softened the hard crust of the earth so that the subsequent rains can get through and down into the roots of the corn.

Farmers were beginning to get a little discouraged over prospects, fearing that the right kind of rains would not come in time. As is usually the case our fears were unnecessary. Nature sent her showers in time.

Contradictions

We, the poor people, are dazed and bewildered by the mass of contradictory statements published regarding conditions vital to our business and our social welfare.

We are deluged by a flood of propaganda and scarcely succeed in fighting our way to the surface for a breath and a look about us, when another great wave of "detail facts," of directly cross current from the one we have just succeeded in escaping, comes along and down we go again.

We have succeeded in learning how to ride safely over the crests of the most of the propaganda regarding foodstuffs and clothing, market conditions and supply, but every fresh wave roller propelled by the hidden, but mighty, forces controlling our coal supply hits us head on and down we go clutching out frantically for any straw which promises relief.

Scarcely has the great wave of propaganda informing us of the shortage of coal—columns and pages of it—been safely passed through when along comes the present wave informing us in official and unofficial statement, supported by confusing statistical tabulations, that the supply of coal mined this year greatly exceeds the supply mined last year.

There seems no way to check the flood of misinformation being circulated by profiteers as an aid to them in the attainment of their ambition save for the people to learn to read between the lines of the extravagant statements given out and to detect the selfish purpose underlying it all.

Much of it has now ceased to mislead us. When we get over our scare on the coal supply perhaps the propaganda of the coal barons will prove useless too.

Fruit and Plant Diseases

This has been a remarkable "growing" season. The crops and the fruit, in fact all kinds of plant life, have grown splendidly all during the spring and summer. The gardens, the fields, the fruit trees and the wild plant life, have all prospered marvelously in the sunshine and showers of a glorious spring and summer.

It seems, however, as the harvest time draws near, that some of the most prosperous looking fruits and vegetables have fallen victim to disease or are being attacked by some unusual bug or worm.

The apples and the tomatoes have proven especially vulnerable to the attacks of diseases or worms which we never hear of in dryer and more "normal" seasons when the plant life does not grow so rapidly nor so luxuriantly.

Some of the growing plants and crops are showing some indications that they like some people, are falling victims to too much prosperity and high living.

They have fed up and gorged themselves on the fine weather and grown soft. The lack of weather hardships has not toughened them and strengthened them to such a degree that they are able to combat the disease germs and the worms and insects.

Thus it seems the trees, the vegetables and the plants must undergo their hardships and trials, the same as people are required to do if they grow vigorous and strong and able to fend off the attacks of disease.

POETRY FOR TODAY

ONE THING

Help me to choose, O Lord, from out the maze
And multitude of things that by me roll,
One thing to work and pray for here on earth—
Something to keep before me as a goal;
That when I die my days may form for Thee,
Not many fragments but one perfect whole.

I seek, O Lord, some purpose in my life,
Some end which will my daily acts control.
So many days seem wasted now to me—
Help me to choose, O Lord, while I am young.
Something to keep before me as a goal.

ANTI-WILSON MEN PEEVED OVER ATTITUDE OF CANDIDATE

Governor Cox's Endorsement Of League of Nations Displeasing to Some Party Leaders.

Should Bring Enthusiastic Support of All Administration Friends.

BY MARK SULLIVAN

(Copyright 1920)

Dayton, August 11.—The comments of public men and newspapers on Cox's speech which have been coming back to Dayton do not wholly coincide with the impression made on those Democratic leaders who came to hear it in person and who have been departing for their homes during the early days of the week.

These Democratic leaders can be roughly divided into two classes, the ones who are friends of Wilson and the administration and the ones who are not. Of these two groups, the former are pleased and jubilant, the latter went home disappointed and in some cases angry.

Cox got his nomination almost wholly from men who hate Wilson. In naming Cox one of their principal motives was the feeling that they were getting even with Wilson administration for grievance which they felt the administration had put upon them, grievances chiefly in the nature of denial of patronage.

The feeling now is that Cox wishes to dissociate himself from close identify with this anti-Wilson wing of the party. This feeling is based not merely on the heartiness of Cox's endorsement of the League of Nations, but also on other passages from his speech, and to other acts of his some of them in connection with the reorganization of the party machinery.

Gov. Cox's Obligations

Judge by the standards that independent voters are apt to apply, Cox himself undoubtedly has and deserves to have a higher place in their estimation than Tammany, the New Jersey machine, and the other forces that nominated him. Also, it is apparent that Cox wants the public to understand that he personally had no pre-convention understanding with these men and did not get support by virtue of promises made to them. Probably it is fair to Cox to say that his only obligation to these elements of the party is the obligation implied in the fact that he is the beneficiary of their actions. Of course, while that does constitute his only obligation to these men and while that obligation is wholly one of implication, nevertheless it is an obligation which the accepted rules of practical politics call on a man in Cox's position to live up to scrupulously.

That Cox should now have the manner not merely of holding out the olive branch but of handing the key of the whole house to those Democratic leaders who are friends of Wilson is a cause of disappointment and anger to those anti-Wilson leaders who think he is under obligations to stand with them. These leaders and most of them came to Dayton to take part in the ratification do not share at all the changes made by the Republicans Senator Harry New, that Cox in his speech wants to "straddle" on the League. They think Cox meant to take a stand out of which Wilson and Wilson's friends would get unqualified satisfaction.

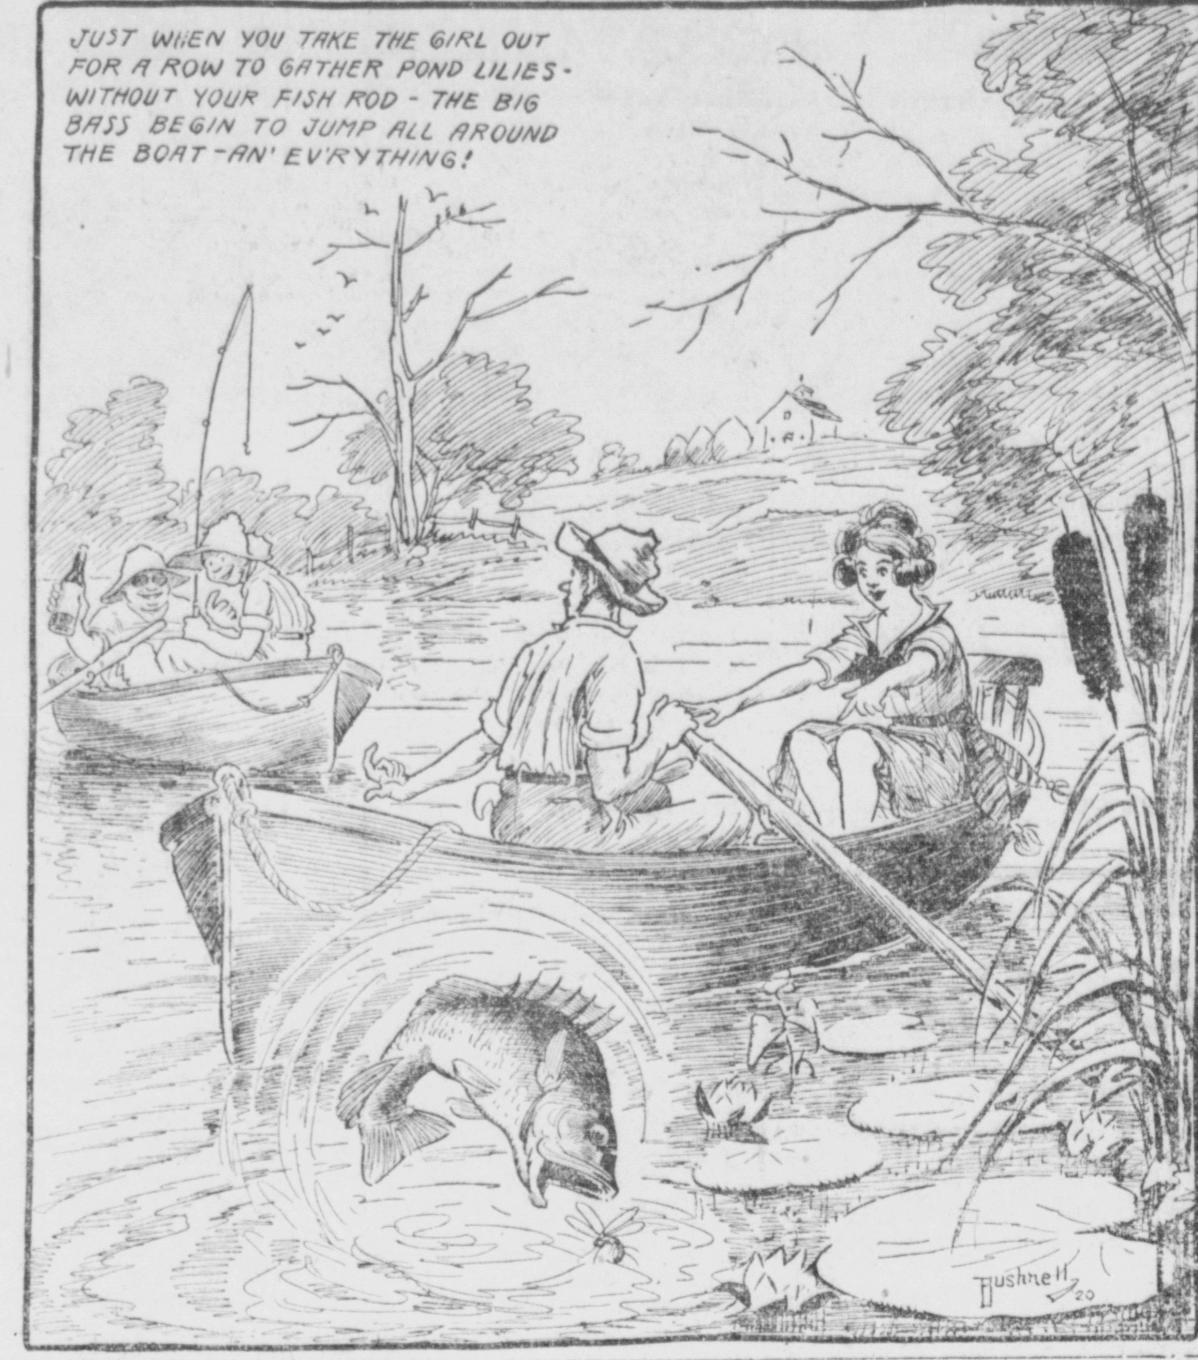

They think that Cox in his speech meant to invite and now ought to receive from Wilson's friends not merely the conventional lip service of regular party men, but all the enthusiasm and the earnestly active support which they put into electing Wilson himself in 1912 and 1916. Those leaders who are either lukewarm personally about the League or who represent states in which the League is not a popular issue did not hesitate to let the party management know that in the light of Cox's speech they cannot be responsible for as large a vote in November as they otherwise had expected to deliver.

DECLARES HE IS HIGHLY PRAISED WITH NEW REMEDY

Well known Dayton citizen, suffered from sluggish liver, weak kidneys, nervousness, loss of appetite and constipation.

The great herbal remedy, Dreco, gave prompt relief and made him feel full of energy.

I formerly lost from five to eight days a month on account of sickness. I got so much better when I first began taking Dreco, but being a conservative man, I waited until I was positive Dreco was doing the work, then I was glad to endorse it, says Mr. C. X. Hunsicker of 14 Orchard Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

"My liver was sluggish and I often had dizzy spells, spots floated before my eyes; my tongue was coated, and I had a foul taste in my mouth. My kidneys were weak, and I often had dull, aching pains in my back. After each meal I'd feel very uncomfortable, caused by gastritis which gave my stomach a full, bloated feeling, often with a burning sensation. I dreaded for night to come because I was so nervous I could not sleep, but would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other, and when morning came I would be more worn out than when I retired the night before.

"Since taking Dreco all these ailments have disappeared. My bowels act regularly; no more dizzy attacks; the bad taste and foul breath are gone; I stoop and bend over without a pain in my limbs, and all the aches in my back in the region of my kidneys are gone. I sleep sound all night long, and have to be roused every morning. I can't say enough in praise of this great remedy, Dreco."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Washington C. H. by Frank Christopher, advt.

My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or crop that I ever saw."

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Why does a man never get married in ancestral harness? One reads in a report of a recent wedding in New Haven, Conn., that the bride (Miss Dorothy W. Day) wore a gown which was worn by her grandmother when the latter was married fifty years ago.

In other cases it is not the entire gown but the bridal dress was trimmed with rare old lace that was part of the wedding finery of the bride's great grandmother when that estimable lady was married, about seventy-five years before.

But who ever read "Mr. Bridgeman" was quite handsome in a suit of black which was worn by his grandfather, the Hon. John Bridgeman, when he married Miss Mehitable Spanker in 1860?"

Nor does one ever learn from a modern wedding report: "The bridegroom's feet were clad in shoes that his great grandfather, Capt. Pedderiad Timkin, wore at Bunker Hill and Valley Forge. The shoes, with only slight restoration necessary, are in marvelous condition and lent a distinctly Revolutionary flavor to the bridal occasion."

In fact the bridegroom's clothing never gets a mention, beyond "The convention black."

Two chief reasons are advanced for the lack of ancestral male garments at the bridal altar. One reason is the difficulty of making a man look even passable in his grandfather's rig, whereas a girl becomes more beautiful in the quaint garments of a by-gone day.

But the real reason why a man does not marry in his granddad's scenery is because it is not. Grandmother put her wedding dress carefully away and preserved it for her children.

Do not heat the pickles, spices or vinegar. Use one pint of water with three pints of Heinz white pickling vinegar.

This vinegar is sold by some few dealers in bulk. Most all dealers have it for sale in bottles. Be sure you get Heinz vinegar. Remember, some white vinegars are not good and that Heinz does not make all the white vinegars.

Granddad put his away for the nonce but he was in no circumstances to preserve a perfectly good suit for another generation. He needed it in his own business. So eventually his bridal attire went the way of all men's clothing.

But it would be refreshing, some critics of the times say, to read once in awhile in wedding reports: "The bridegroom's sweet shape was admirably set off by the bridal pants worn seventy-five years ago by his paternal grandfather, the celebrated Squire Binglewhiggle on the occasion of his marriage to the beautiful Prudence Winterbottom."

OHIO'S STATE FAIR NEARS 70TH YEAR

Anniversary of Venerable Institution, Widely Beloved, Will Be Celebrated Fittingly.

STILL SERVES THE PEOPLE

Return on Investment Beyond Calculation, Declares Secretary Shaw, Who Urges Big Improvement Program.

This year the Ohio state fair will be 70 years old.

The anniversary of this sterling institution, which throughout its long and honorable career has striven mightily for the betterment of agricultural, mechanical and industrial arts, the founding of which is remembered by only a few Ohioans, is to be fittingly observed at the coming exposition at Columbus Aug. 30 to Sept. 4.

The state fair was the pioneer in the work of advancing Ohio agriculture. It was the forerunner of the splendid agricultural colleges and research institutions which are doing so much to raise the standard of farming. Time was when the farmers of Ohio had to depend largely upon the state fair as their agricultural college. Although the modern agricultural colleges are turning out thousands of scientific farmers yearly, the state fair has lost none of its popularity, neither has its usefulness diminished.

It continues to serve—the farmer primarily. In a week the farmer can "brush up" at the fair, learn what is newest in agricultural machinery and the breeding of livestock; see what others are doing, talk over things and make comparisons with his fellowmen, and have a refreshing period of enjoyable recreation. Even the college-trained farmer appreciates the educational value of the fair. He gets much there that he could not in college.

SIMMY JAMES IS ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

Upon charges of forgery filed by Roy T. McClure, cashier of the Peoples and Drovers Bank, Simmy James, colored, and known in local police circles, was taken into custody Tuesday evening. When a preliminary hearing was given before Mayor V. J. Dahl Wednesday afternoon James entered a plea of not guilty and a hearing was set for two o'clock Friday afternoon.

Charges filed by McClure were the outgrowth of a series of forgeries which have kept the banks of this city guessing for weeks and the latest of which was against E. F. Armbrust in the sum of $15.50 on the Peoples and Drovers Bank.

Among the persons who were victims of forgeries in the last few days were Harry Taylor, Grant DeWitt, the Backenstoe Grocery and the Sauer Bakery.

SEVER DEFEATS HIS OPPONENT

In the contest between Charles Sever and William Backenstoe, candidates on the Democratic ticket for the office of Sheriff, Sever defeated Backenstoe by 51 votes, as shown by the official canvass announced late Wednesday afternoon.

Sever polled 229 votes and Backenstoe 178. This places Sheriff N. B. Hall and Sever in the race for sheriff at the general election.

The chief trouble with labor is the work connected with it.

PLAN ELECTIONS TO END TROUBLES

(By Associated Press.)

Vienna, (By Mail)—It is now settled that elections for a new National Assembly will be held the first week in October. Unless another crisis should arise, which is most unlikely in view of the present internal situation, the temporary cabinet that took office last week, will continue in power and carry out the non-partisan program agreed upon at its creation.

The wealth levy and constitutional reform, on which came the deadlock that resulted in the downfall of the Renner ministry still occupy the leading place as issues. It was agreed upon that their consideration should continue and an effort be made to reach a compromise that will permit of passage in some form. The Social Democrats and the Christian Socialists supported by the Big German party, are so far apart, however, that an acceptable compromise of a workable character is regarded as unlikely.

The Social Democrats are unyielding in their insistence upon a compulsory fortune contribution that shall place the burden of the taxation upon wealth, landed and otherwise, while the conservative parties, united in this declare that so radical a measure as that proposed shall never become law.

At present all parties are playing for position in the coming campaign and attempting to throw the burden of blame for the failure of the Assembly to enact any of the vital measures before it, upon the other.

started its annual inspection of flower beds and vegetable gardens planted by the miners and their families.

The first inspection made at the Phillips mine showed that 135 gardens had been started, three of which had been carried along until harvest. The value of the crops has been estimated by the committee at $10,000. The next inspection made at the Colonial No. 1 mine, where there were 220 gardens, showed 214 in a high state of cultivation, with a total valuation of $14,970.

After awarding the prizes at the Colonial, the committee took occasion to praise the miners and their families for the excellent sanitary condition of the little town and its streets. The plant was declared to have one of the finest baseball parks and stands in Fayette county, while satisfaction was expressed with the progress being made in the construction of the new playground and athletic field.

Work Is Regenerating European Nations

THE PARIS BRANCH OF AN AMERICAN BANK—ONE OF THE AGENCIES THROUGH WHICH THIS COUNTRY'S MONEY AND MATERIALS ARE HELPING TO PUT EUROPE ON HER FEET.

THE BOURSE, FRANCE'S STOCK EXCHANGE, WHERE THE EXPANSION OF THE REPUBLIC'S INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES IS REFLECTED

BANK OF BELGIUM—THAT COUNTRY'S FINANCIAL RECOVERY IS GAINING MOMENTUM EVERY DAY

It is in full appreciation of these facts, that the United States should face the European problem and meet the responsibilities and opportunities it presents. This country is a vast reservoir of raw materials which all the world needs; we have the strength, virility and dynamic energy of a youthful nation—the spirit of the New World. And in helping Europe to rehabilitate itself we will help ourselves.

shows a deficit of several billion dollars—a deficit which has had to be taken care of by Ways and Means Advances and Treasury Bills. It is certain that economies will be rigidly enforced during the coming fiscal year in order that there may be no repetition of this situation and that, instead of an increase of the Kingdom's floating debt, there will be a reduction.

In France, progress has necessarily been slower than in England, but there has been progress. No country could endure what France has undergone and expect to recuperate in fifteen months.

Her two great needs today are adequate taxation and debt consolidation, including, particularly, the reduction of the advances by the Bank of France to the Government, in order that the amount of French paper money may be reduced. The yield of existing taxes consistently increased during 1919 and outstripped budget estimates.

Belgium, like France, is today offering for subscription a large premium loan—in the case of the little kingdom, the definite amount of two and a half million francs—to take care of current necessities and reduce floating indebtedness. Like France, too, she is now levying heavier taxes on her people—taxes which, as industry continues to increase in productivity, will yield greater amounts. These include heavy inheritance taxes. Belgium is assuredly "coming back," and she is gaining momentum every day.

Among the former European belligerents, Great Britain is in the best position. Her industry has made enormous strides during 1919 and her foreign traders and bankers have made notable progress in the world's markets. Great Britain is now actually "turning the corner." The present fiscal year of paper money outstanding, and the status of the Sixth Internal Loan, now being floated, and taxation proposals. The success of the loan has been beyond the expectation of the Government. This achievement will go far toward stabilizing Italian finance, reducing the country's floating debt, and still will enable the Government to cut down the issue of paper currency.

With a debt of 50 billion dollars, repayment payments in money and in kind, to look forward to, amounting to tens of billions, marks at a discount of more than 90 per cent, a shortage of many sorts of raw materials, great insufficiency of coal supplies, 50 billion marks of paper money outstanding, and the tendency to increase rather than to diminish the total, with no merchant fleet to bring the greatly needed raw materials and food-stuffs from abroad—with these and other unfavorable elements in the situation, the outlook for Germany is indeed discouraging. The only loan floated during 1919 was a dismal failure.

But the German Government is evincing willingness to try to meet expenses by heavy taxation, including a capital levy. And, despite her heavy burden, I believe that Germany will continue to "carry on" without repudiation of her colossal debt, although she has been forced to recognize the depreciation of her currency.

Russia is still in the throes of economic chaos, but even she is awakening to the necessity for work and to a realization of the value of gold as a symbol of crystallized labor. It may be years before the Russian people shake off the tyranny of Bolshevism, but they will do so sooner or later and will again become one of the great nations of the world.

The millennium will be when principle wins a battle with expediency in politics.

The old law of supply and demand doesn't hold good in the case of campaign oratory.

BIG CIRCUS BILLED HERE IN FEW WEEKS

Hagenbeck-Wallace With Trained Animal Show,
Big Menagerie and Circus
To Be Here August 23.

Billboards and store windows are now heralding the tidings of the coming of the majestic Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus on Monday, August 23. Advance Car No. 1 has already been here and according to the men in charge, the exhibition this year will mark an epoch in trained animal feats and equestrian novelties.

The trained animal program has received much attention this season, as it is the prominent portion of the exhibition. Skilled trainers devoted the winter months to the teaching of new feasts to the animals at winter headquarters in West Baden, Ind., and have perfected an astonishing program, which is promised to introduce feats never accomplished before.

In the three big rings features of European fame and headliner acts of America are billed. Leading clowns have been contracted and much overtime was consumed in preparing new pantomime stunts assured to bring laughter from all. A jazz band composed of these mimics is only one of their many features.

A menagerie containing practically a specimen of every living animal today is being carried. It is said to be attracting wide-spread attention, being beneficial from an educational viewpoint, as well as interesting. The

$60,000 BOND ISSUE CARRIES

The unofficial returns on the $60,000 bond issue for enlarging and equipping the Bloomingburg school building, show that the measure carried by 32 votes, due to an overwhelming vote in favor of the bond issue polled in Bloomingburg corporation.

Last April the same proposal was defeated by 35 votes, at which time there were 113 votes for and 148 against.

The vote by precincts was as follows:

Bloomingburg	yes 108	no 35
Marion	yes 4	no 24
Union	yes 9	no 25
Paint, (lower)	yes 24	no 29
Total	yes 145	no 113

The work of proceeding with enlarging the building and adding additional equipment probably will be taken up in the near future, as there is urgent need of greater facilities for the schools in Bloomingburg.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT

A proprietary medicine, like everything else that comes before the public, has to prove its merits. The law of the survival of the fittest applies in this field as in others. The reason for the tremendous success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is because it has been fulfilling a real human need for forty years, so that today thousands of American women owe their health and happiness to the marvelous power of this famous medicine, made from roots and herbs—nature's remedy for woman's ills.

What's done as much as anything else to fill up the movie houses

LOOK at the crowds that step out of their cars in front of the movies every summer evening.

The movie managers would be renting half of their theatres for store space, if it weren't for the automobile.

II

It is typical of Americans that they took to the automobile
as a matter of course
— just as they have to the movies and to every other great invention of the last half century.

And the same thing has happened every time. Taking things as they come is a fine way to litter waste and extravagance.

As regards tires, the comeback is about due. People are pretty near through paying for something that isn't there when they look for it.

III

What a man pays for in a tire is quality—not a limited number of miles or the privilege of getting a rebate in case the miles don't come up to the limit.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed
as to quality—with no limitation of mileage.

Just as good as good for the small car tire as for the large U. S. Tire we've got the only one standard of quality with U. S.—and the little car has nothing whatever to do with it.

We represent U. S. Tires worth while to talk to us before you buy any more tires.
